HOW TO MAKE MONEY.

Good Suggestions From a Well Informed Authority.

It pays to advertise. No sane person need be told that fact. The only remaining question is how to do it best. There is, but a very slight division of opinion upon that subject so far as ordinary business enterprises go. The successful merchant or manufacturer depends upon the newspapers almost if not quite entirely, and he finds that money invested in that manner brings inevitably large returns. Naturally the heaviest of all advertisements are circus proprietors. One but needs to look at the advertising now being done by the Adam Forepaugh Shows. Just stop to consider for one moment that all that enormous amount of advertising, in the newspapers and upon the streets and the railroad, is done to get on day's business. No other business concern in America does so much advertising and it follows as certain as does the setting of the Sun in the West and its rising in the East, that no other concern does so much business—profit considered. In a conversation had in this office recently with Mr. R. C. Campbell, General Agent of the Adam Forepaugh Shows who has charge of all their advertising, he said: "The newspapers are indisputably the best medium for advertising and were it not for the fact that we want to reach all classes—including the very few who do not read newspapers regularly we would probably not use any other medium, except for our purpose and that is this: Words will not nor can they convey and adequately idea of the splendors of the spectacle, the Fall of Noveah. Now our lithographic posters and window bills are exact copies—photographic reproductions—of the scenes and their coloring and action. So you see they are not more imaginative and exaggerated pictures, such as have been used, and in fact, are now by other shows. It would be impossible to reproduce all the colors and the details of the scenes in a newspaper that is plain black ink on white paper and we are obliged to resort to posters to the extraordinary extent we do on that account. Still, the newspaper is the best of mediums. It can tell its readers just what they will see because they can learn from their newspaper exchanges just what the shows are in other cities before they come, and as those never appear under their performances, the newspapers know and can tell their readers the plain truth. That is just what we like to have them do, as the papers are all with us and say what is no more than the plain truth that they really are the largest and best shows there is in any other country has ever seen. Just see them when they are here on Tuesday, when they are here on Tuesday, and you are bound to join your contemporaries. And it ought to be some satisfaction for you to know that the biggest and best shows owe their magnificence, their success and their prosperity to printers ink and they still depend upon it to continue in the same work of doing."

Old Waxey's Pedigree.

ED. ADVOCATE:

I have been anxious for a dozen or more years to learn the pedigree of the horse, Old Waxey, and after much inquiry and search I believe I have got it correctly, and if anyone knows I have made a mistake I shall be glad to be corrected. Dr. Herr, the painstaking gentleman who never stated a fact about pedigree or anything else, unless on good authority, and always did it in tasteful language, says in "The History of Fayette County," pp. 139, that Waxey was descended from Bowen by Sunpie, his dam Lady Grey, by Sir Robin Grey, and, therefore, cousin to the renowned Lexington. Dr. Herr says he is: "There are more celebrated race-horses descended or have given birth to some of the best horses in the world, than any horse that ever stood in Kentucky," and then gives a number of distinguished descendants.

Old Waxey was by Berthune, by Sir Haliunet, by Sir Archie, by Imp. Diamond, 1st dam Lady Burford by Sir Archie, 2d dam Sunpie, 3d dam by the horse sent as a present by the Duke of York to Thomas Jefferson in 1813. E. C. Oscar took the breath of life bright last week by presenting him with a very handsome cane brought from London.

We ask the indulgence of our readers for a few weeks. Our advertisers have trespassed on our reading space, and one only remedy is to give the same more condensed.

W. of the New York Life, on his return from Europe, next month. Only a very few of the most successful agents in the country are thus honored. Major Parcell ranking high among those few.

Mr. J. A. Oscar has resigned his position with V. O. Miller, and accepted a position with Mr. J. D. White, the grocer. Mr. Oscar is one of Mt. Sterling's most popular salesmen, and whilst Mr. Miller, much to his regret, loses Mr. White gains a popular and painstaking salesman who has a host of friends that like to trade with him. Mr. Oscar commands a big trade, which always follows him into whatever line he may change.

A number of complaints have reached us from citizens residing on Sycamore street of the existence of a terrible nuisance in the neighborhood in the shape of a hog pen, from which issued an almost overpowering stench. It is said to be so strong as to drive people mad in the near-by houses, and the authorities be prevailed upon to order this abominable nuisance abated? There is certainly good reason why it should be permitted to exist, endangering as it does the general health of the community.

Will Robb says his wheat crop averaged 9 bushels per acre. Why doesn't every man and woman in the state do the same? Jerome of Lexington has sold his Bedford county farm of 300 acres to brother Zack. The price paid was $1000. The tobacco crop is about a total failure in Bourbon, Hart, Madison and Fayette counties. It will bring a fancy price next year.

Hemp cutting is in progress. The crops are reported as quite good as a whole, the crop is a poor one, Chester Democrat.

RELIGIOUS.

The Sunday-schools of Howard's Mill and Mt. Sterling Baptist Churches are, on last Tuesday, and had a grand picnic. The children and parents were all there, about 600, and the mixing around made it appear one family reunion. At 12 o'clock a small cloud was seen in the west and before dinner was half over some of the party, the Superintendent of Howard's Mill Sunday-school, being taken shelter in the church while the others stuck by the excellent dinner, some of them getting so wet that they needed wringing and hanging out to dry. This was all-right, however, and made the picnic the more enjoyable. After a while, more than an hour, the crowd had gathered in the beautiful church, and like winged songsters after the clouds had been dispelled and the sun had come out, happy hearts of the schools gave expressions of joy in song service, which was followed by delightful speeches by pastor Bomar, superintendent Dawson and deacon Paxton. Solos, duets and choruses in Sunday-school music by the children of the schools was just delightful, and notwithstanding the heavy rainfall everyone was delighted. The dinner was just the kind that our Howard's Mill friends know how to get up. Everything that could be thought off was prepared in the most palatable style. When the parting time came the superintendent of the Mt. Sterling Sunday-school announced that another picnic would be held next year on the Mt. Sterling grounds by the same schools.

Rev. A. J. Arrell, of Hartford City, Indiana, who was here some time ago and preached for the First Presbyterian church, has virtually accepted the call extended and will be ready to enter upon his work as pastor October, 9.

This is good news. The church will have an excellent pastor, a fine preacher, and Mt. Sterling will be blessed with a valuable acquisition.

Rev. H. P. Johnston arrived Monday and preached a glowing sermon at the Baptist Church Monday night.

He will preach several nights and afterwards this week. The public are cordially invited. Special music for the services. Services begin at three in the afternoon and half past seven at night.

Rev. Richard French delighted his old friends by two earnest and able sermons at the Baptist Church Sunday. Come again Bro. French.

Dr. Hiner preached his last sermon during this Concourse year, in our city, on Sunday evening. He filled the pulpit of the Christian church, the occasion being the last of the series of Union Services, for this year. The congregation that greeted Dr. Hiner was an immense one, the church was taxed to its utmost capacity and his last effort before our people was by no means his worn one. It is earnestly hoped by all our citizens that the Doctor will be sent back to this district as Presiding Elder; since he cannot return to a pasture among us. The Conference meets in Middlesboro to-day.

The protracted meeting at Spencer, under charge of Elder Crabtree, closed on Sunday night. There were eight additions by confession and baptism and one by reclamation.
